

Loup City Butterfly Garden Tour

Saturday, October 8, 2016
2:30 p.m.

Sherman County Historical Society
133 S 8th St., Loup City

Environmentalists, gardeners, students, teachers, and community members are invited to attend a three-four hour Butterfly Garden Tour on Saturday, October 8, 2016 beginning at 2:30 p.m. Interested parties are asked to meet at the Sherman County Historical Society, 133 S 8th St. in Loup City at 2:15 p.m. to ensure plenty of time for introductions before the informational session begins. Plans for the afternoon include a short butterfly and pollinator information session and then visiting six-seven gardens in the Loup City area. Participants will learn the importance of butterfly/pollinator gardens, get first hand experience with butterfly and plant identification and importance.

The instructor for the day will be Amy Hughes, Entomologist, Loup River Scenic Byway Butterfly Garden Educator/Certifier, Keep Loup Basin Beautiful Project Coordinator, Mom, Waitress, Sales Clerk and Farm/Rancher.

To register contact Loup River Scenic Byway Interpretive Center at 308-346-3393 or email Amy at Amy@keeploupbasinbeautiful.org
